

Desktop access to Elsevier's ScienceDirect journals, eBooks and Scopus citation database (Jan. – Dec. 2020)

Elsevier and Life Science Intelligence at NCBiotech are partnering to offer eligible companies special rates on subscriptions to scientific literature and other products. Ensure that your team has the information it needs, at rates your company can afford.

For the purpose of this agreement, the term “researcher” is defined as any scientist, biologist, biochemist, chemist, clinician, physician, etc. employed by participating companies and actively engaged in research and development.

ScienceDirect Journals

Whether you're a scientist, researcher, chemist or engineer, driving innovation and supporting R&D and product development can be a challenge—especially while balancing commercial demands. ScienceDirect helps you make quicker, more confident decisions by giving you instant access to the latest scholarly developments.

ScienceDirect combines authoritative, highly-cited full-text scientific, technical and health publications with smart, intuitive functionality so that your team can stay informed and work more effectively. ScienceDirect hosts over 3,800 journals and more than 39,000 books—over 15 million peer-reviewed publications.

Subscription Pricing

- $5,205 minimum for three licenses

ScienceDirect Corporate Edition for Books

Sometimes researchers need book resources in addition to journal articles. To meet this need, Elsevier has compiled over 14,000 electronic books into this collection, spanning all scientific and medical disciplines. The collection includes book series, reference works, handbooks and other books, back to 1995.

Subscription Pricing

- $5,000 minimum for 20 researchers
 - $250 for each additional research license
- List price is $12,201 for 1-50 researchers*

Cell Press Journals

With a commitment to improving scientific communication, Cell Press publishes leading primary research and review journals covering the full and exciting spectrum of biology. Each company that subscribes to ScienceDirect through the NCBiotech program may also subscribe to Cell Press journals at a reduced rate.

Add-on Subscription Pricing

- Up to 2 Cell Press Journals: 5% off the combined subscription cost
- 3 to 4 Cell Press Journals: 10% off the combined subscription cost
- 5 to 7 Cell Press Journals: 15% off the combined subscription cost
