

NCBiotech Funding Opportunities

The NC Biotech Center is a state-funded non-profit agency that works to accelerate technology-based economic development in the life sciences through innovation, commercialization, education and business growth. NC Biotech offers several grant programs specifically for universities and non-profit research institutions. The agency recently published its grant application deadlines for the coming fiscal year.